A THOUSAND HANDS OF COMPASSION
The Chant of Korean Spirituality and Enlightenment

Winner of the 2010 iF Design Award
iF(International Forum)

Chanted every day in Buddhist temples throughout Korea, A Thousand Hands of Compassion integrates all the major aspects of Korean Buddhist thought. Popular with monastics and lay people alike, variations have been recited in Korea for the past 1,300 years. It describes the path of spiritual practice, integrating non-duality, mantras, the desire to save all beings, repentance, and taking refuge. Its truths echo deep within us and arise in our daily life to help guide us. The illustrations by one of Korea’s foremost modern artists, Hyo Rim, contain the fragrance of deep meditation, and will touch readers of all backgrounds.

NO RIVER TO CROSS
Trusting the Enlightenment that’s Always Right Here

Seon Master Daehaeng’s ability to reach out to a wide audience of both ordained and lay Buddhists is well documented in this anthology No River to Cross. Her method of teaching is disarmingly simple, yet remarkably profound. She is widely known for her insight into people’s character and her ability to draw on that insight to craft teachings that correspond precisely to the needs of her audience. Seon Master Daehaeng emerges in this collection as one of the most creative and accessible of contemporary Korean Buddhist teachers, who can use even the most mundane of daily events as grist for the mill of Buddhist teaching and practice.

TOUCHING THE EARTH
The Power of Our Inner Light to Transform the World

In this new collection of Dharma talks, Seon Master Daehaeng shows us everything is a part of ourselves—nothing is separate. Inherently, all life and things form a single interconnected, flowing whole. As such, everyone is open to the whole of this energy. Thus, spiritual practice starts by entrusting the stuff of our daily life to this connection, which we sometimes call one mind. In relying upon and returning to this place where we are all connected, we can take care of ourselves, our family, and even the world.

THE MOON IN A THOUSAND RIVERS
Messages from My True Self

A translated collection of the Buddhist songs of the Korean Seon (Zen) Master Daehaeng. In singing these, we repeat and input these teachings deep inside of ourselves. In this way, deeper truths can find a foothold within us to guide, and will arise in times of need. These songs reflect the wisdom, compassion, and understanding of a great Seon Master. Some songs are very basic instructions for spiritual practice: rely upon the great source and foundation within you. Other songs encourage us to become great beings who will be a blessing upon all around us. Still yet others remind us of the ultimate nature of reality. For although we may not yet perceive these truths, we can make great progress in our practice by making our behavior consistent with them. As we sing and repeat these songs, the deeper meanings resonate within us. They sink down deep inside and show us how we can find joy and freedom within our ordinary, daily lives.

SI TE LO PROPONES NO HAY IMPOSSIBLES
The Spark That Can Save the Universe

This work compiles three Dharma talks given by Seon(Zen) Master Daehaeng, where she puts special emphasis on how we can solve the troubles of daily life, from the minor to the fundamental, including the icecaps melting and holes in ozone. She shows us how we all have the ability, through our foundation, to change all of these things for the better. She reminds us clearly and compassionately that we all live under the same roof, sharing the same life and body. Using simple but profound words, and practical wisdom, she explains how the practice of entrusting everything to our inherent “root” can take care of our family, society, and the planet.

THE SPARK THAT CAN SAVE THE UNIVERSE
(Una semilla inherente alimenta el Universo)

There is a spark within us that can feed all the beings in the universe. Discover this true essence of yourself and learn how to apply it throughout the world. This essence that the Patriarchs have called “Mind,” is such a vast and profound realm. It is to this that Daehaeng Kun Sunim points the way. This is the first volume of the Spanish series “Practice in Daily Life.” These are bilingual Spanish-English Dharma talks.

人生不是苦海

The Wisdom and Teachings of Seon Master Daehaeng

In this book, Seon Master Daehaeng shows us how the difficulties of life can become the materials with which we transform ourselves and find our true essence. She shows how long travels and expensive retreats are unnecessary, for everything we need is already here in the midst of our ordinary, everyday life. Rather than being hindrances, the suffering and difficulties we encounter are our teachers and fellow practitioners, who are guiding us and helping us grow. Through this book, we can discover the way to become a truly free person living in the middle of this modern world.
